the authentic Asado

Deep in the heart of Palermo, behind unassuming doors, lies a beautifully preserved home from the early 1900's. Stepping inside feels like entering another time, a warm and welcoming space that sets the stage for a memorable evening.

Your guests will be welcomed by the relaxing elegance of the living room. A space designed for comfort and connection, the room easily accommodates up to 30 people, and can set the stage for a welcome presentation or a joyful mingling.

The evening gently unfolds. Our sommelier will introduce the first Argentine wine, perfectly paired with delicate bites— a quiet invitation to relax and ease into the atmosphere.

As conversations naturally begin to bubble and flow, the energy of the gathering naturally makes its way upstairs.

Up on the terrace, the mood softens, becoming something more intimate. With soft lighting, warm décor, and the gentle crackle of the fire, this is a space that invites everyone to breathe, unwind, and just be.

The beauty of the space is in the freedom to wander: find a spot by the fireplace, gather around a table with colleagues, or just drift and chat. This open flow encourages natural movement, effortless conversation, and a sense of ease that doesn't need a rigid structure.

Then comes the heart of the experience. Our grillmaster tends to a selection of the finest quality meats and local delicacies over the open fire. These are served tapas-style, perfect for sharing, sampling a little of everything, and savoring flavors without the constraints of a sit-down meal. And with each delicious bite, our sommelier gently introduces another handpicked Argentine wine, each one carefully chosen to lift the flavors and the moment.

An Asado here is far more than just dinner. It's one of Argentina's most cherished traditions, a beautiful, slow ritual centered on coming together, around the fire. It's where stories are shared and where genuine connections deepen.

An ideal setting for building trust in those relaxed "off-the-clock" moments that strengthen a team.
